I have conducted a client assessment with you to determine what and how you like to eat, including any dietary or medical parameters that must be addressed. We have selected your first set of entrees together and choose your first cooking day. On the designated day, I will cook in your kitchen using your/my equipment and the groceries that I bring to your home. At the end of that day I will store the food, label it and leave complete handling instructions for your convenience. I will clean the kitchen and leave your home, taking all of my equipment with me.

I am not a medical professional and do not claim any expertise other than as a trained professional Chef/Whole foods specialist. If a therapeutic diet is required by a physician or nutritionist, I agree to abide by the prescribed dietary plan so they can be incorporated into the weekly food plan.
